Dating Your Estonian Girlfriend Online

After meeting your Estonian girlfriend through a dating site, you might be struggling with sustaining your relationship while the both of you are preparing for her to travel to your country or you going over to Estonia. If you look at statistics figures, it's not unusual to find a large percentage of married couples who have been at one point going through their relationship before their wedding while being far from each other. This could mean two things, the couples either met on the internet, or they met in person through a dating service or on a holiday, and had to spend time apart to arrange all the necessary paperwork so that they could stay together. Therefore, there's hope for long distance partnerships!

It's important to be in constant contact.

It's important in every relationship be constantly speaking to each other. This, however, is utterly important when it comes to online dating and it's not possible to see each other every day. Emailing and calling often will definitely bring you closer together. Feeling the connection and closeness is very important for every marriage or relationship, they will make getting over difficult situations a lot easier and the relationship work better. Thankfully, technology is on the side of virtual couples everywhere in the world. Today, there are many different ways to be in touch every day, and what's more important, these communication methods do not cost too much. Using features like emails, web cam chats and virtual dates, it's easy to keep in touch.

Make sure you set boundaries and goals with each other.

It's natural in any marriage or relationship to have some feelings of jealousy and insecurity. You may be wondering if there are any men close to your gorgeous Estonian girlfriend and if they like her as well. She may be wondering too if she's important enough or even the only girl you're talking to. While these musings cannot be controlled, what's under both your control is the way you deal with things like these together. Online couples who have been successful in navigating the treacherous waters of international online dating have found that setting expectations as well as clear boundaries for each other will limit the chances of having misunderstandings and quarrels over petty jealousies. Since your common goal is to be eventually together and get married, it's quite reasonable to demand from each other to stick to certain rules especially when it comes to members of the opposite sex.

Hold honest discussions about money.

If there's one aspect that may bring a negative image to online dating, is the stories of frauds and scammers. Hopefully you're not suspicious of your long distance girlfriend anyway, but to clear suspicions of frauds and scams, talk to your Estonian girlfriend about your financial situation. If your girlfriend tells you she's been shopping, you can always ask what she got and how much it cost. From what she answers you can see if your sweetheart is able to manage her money. This is important for you, especially if you're just a regular dude who wouldn't want to be surprised when he finds out his foreign wife is spending all his hard earned money.
