#1. Call her often.

The most important thing when it comes to long distance romances and dating Polish women online is being in constant communication. What better way is there to feel close to each other than emailing and calling every day? Feeling the connection is such an important factor in every relationship, because it makes getting over difficult situations a lot easier and the relationship work better. Thankfully, there's no need to wait for days or weeks until your loved one reaches your letter and writes one back. The internet provides numerous ways to keep in touch and these are not too expensive. Options like emails, web cam chats and virtual dates make it easy to stay in each others lives.

#2. Clear boundaries and expectations are important.

Depending on how jealous you and your partner are, there may be times when you feel a bit insecure in your relationship. Not being together may make you wonder about other guys that could be in close proximity to your hot Polish girlfriend. She might be wondering too whether she is important enough and if she is the only woman you're talking to. It's difficult to control these feelings of jealousy and insecurity, but it's definitely possible to handle them in the right way. By setting clear boundaries and expectations, it's easy to deal with long distance dating and avoid arguments and misunderstandings. It's natural to demand each other to stick to those set boundaries and rules if your goal is to get married and be together one day.

#3. Be honest about money.

There are a number of stories around about the frauds and scams of online dating. While it is true that some of the women on those sites want nothing more than to find a rich husband, not all girls are like that. Trust your gut and don't be overly suspicious. To clear the air from the start, discuss your finances openly. If she tells you that she went shopping, there's no harm in asking what she purchased, for how much, and for what reason. Only from this, you can already learn whether your girlfriend is good with money or not. If you're just a normal guy, talking about finances is very important as you would not want to learn one day that your amazing Polish girlfriend spent all your savings.
